

World Sports Hub

World Sports Hub is an organization that aims to publish accurate, helpful, and intelligent sports advice and news on a global scale.

World Sports Hub's goal is to give news faster, more accurately, and in a more legible and digestible format than other popular media outlets. We strive to give real time updates on sports from around the globe, as well as helping with advice on fantasy sports and gambling. Unlike our competition, we will only give you news that needs to be reported, no more updates about what clothes athletes wear when walking into the locker room. Only real sports advice and coverage that can help you be the most knowledgeable sports fan around.

Jerry, 32

Jerry works hard at the office and wants to talk to his friends more about football. He's looking for somewhere that can give him quick and accurate knowledge instead of digging around on websites all day to find what he wants.

Amanda, 25

Amanda's boyfriend is an avid sports fan and she feels left out when he watches sports and talks about them because she does not understand all the things he's talking about. She needs a place to give her basic knowledge to start a conversation with her boyfriend so they can bond more.

Thomas, 29

Thomas is a massive football fan and loves playing fantasy football every year with his friends. Unfortunately, he dislikes all the nuances of traditional sports websites and is looking for something where he can his friends can enjoy a no hassle season of fantasy sports.

